THE RAM

DEDICATION

SUPERINTENDENT J. E. MOSS

To those who went before and prepared the way for our new high school, the citizens of Madison, and to other modern pioneers, led by Mr. J. E. Moss, our superintendent, we dedicate this book.

Three centuries ago our country was a wilderness of forests, of prairies and mountains. Today, our land supports over 130 million people, with a rich civilization. This change was wrought on a foundation laid by those pioneers who pushed to new lands by foot, wagon or by flatboat down the rivers of Tennessee. In the early years the pioneers did what they could to promote learning, but it has been a long road from the log cabin school to our modern Madison High School.

The formidable, natural barriers have disappeared, but the innate quality of pioneering remains with Americans everywhere. The theme of our first annual is based on a growing realization that we modern pioneers have a challenge, that of contributing to a fundamental structure for a peaceful world. This book presents a picture of all phases of our school life and enables you to see that free American educational system which will create fine world citizens, and the application of that educational system which will prepare our nation's youth for the challenge before us.

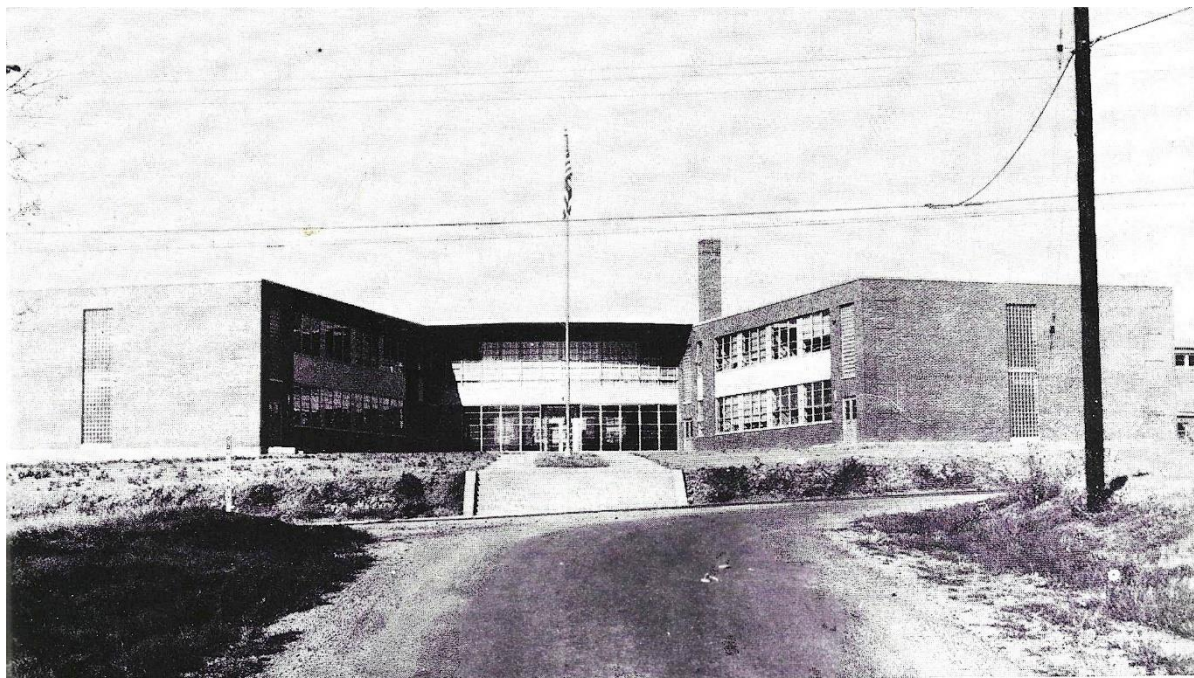

BRIEF HISTORY OF THE MADISON JUNIOR - SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL RY

J. E. MOSS, SUPERINTENDENT

Madison Junior-Senior High School is the first six year unit in Davidson County that was built for such a program. Madison had its inception in 1948 when the county court set up $375,000.00 for this unit out of the four million dollar program, but it was not started until 1951, because the amount was not adequate. In the next bond issue the Board of Education added another $125,000 for Madison bringing its allotment up to one-half million dollars. Even this was not enough money after we decided to go to a six year high school, so we had to borrow another $100,000.00 from another project before we could let the bids on this unit. December 17, 1953, the Board of Education awarded another contract of almost $200,000.00 for an addition of eight classrooms and a vocational and music building which, except for an auditorium will, we hope, complete the structure here.

For two years we searched for a site in the Madison community that would meet the requirements of the County Health Department. At least one-half dozen sites were considered before the present one was approved by the Board of Education.

George Peabody College supplied the final impetus by recommending the construction of a high school at Madison. All organizations of the community worked incessantly for this project - the Men's Club, the PTA, the civic clubs, the American Legion and the churches. Magistrates James Watson and W. E. Nix; Mr. Ernest Chadwell, a member of the Board of Education; Mr. B. O. Edwards of Madison and numerous other leaders of this community gave much time and energy to get this project underway.

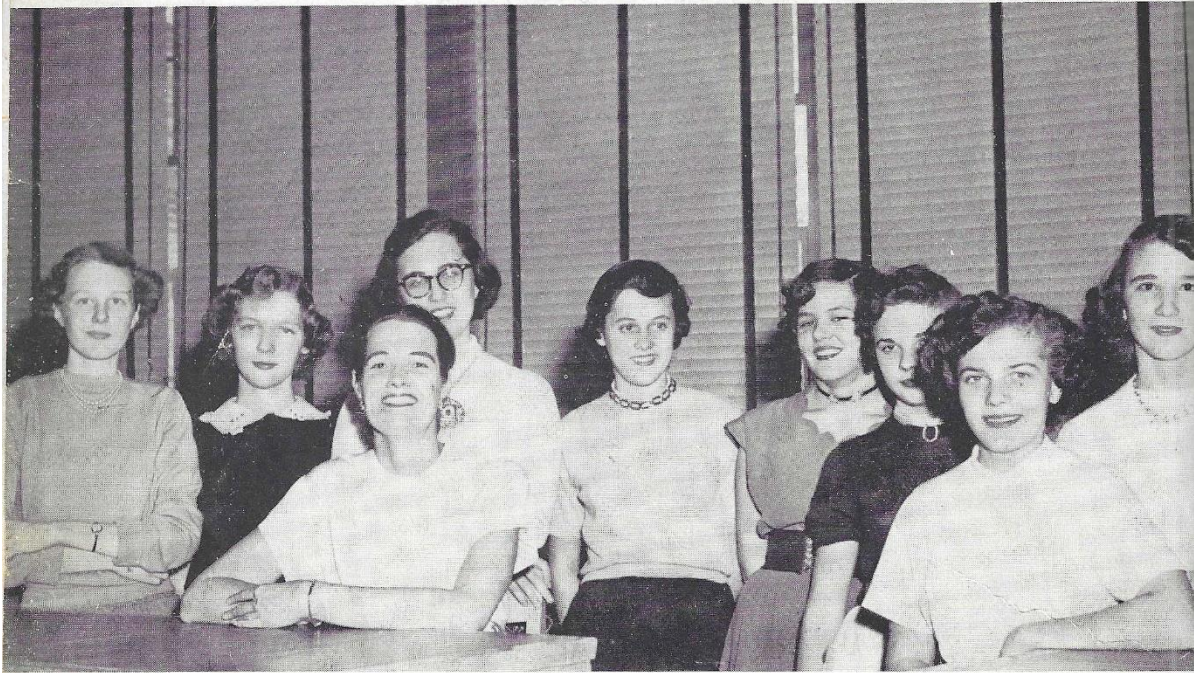

Madison is proud of its new High School
